27TH ANNUAL Seafood Dinner & Dance Saturday, Sept. 10th

Tickets are still available!
Remember: Help Out – Eat FREE!
BBQ lunch on Saturday for all helpers!

The Flipper Dippers' Seafood Dinner & Dance fundraiser is on Saturday, September 10th, at the Santa Clara County Horseman's Association, 20350 McKean Road, San Jose. Dinner will be served from 5:30 PM to 6:30 PM. Dancing is from 6:30 PM to 9:30 PM. This year we really need to promote ticket sales.

Remember, money raised goes towards a number of Club expenses, including the rental of the hall for our General Meetings, the January Awards Banquet, trophies and charitable donations. This year we will be limiting tickets to only 200 people.

We need all Dippers to participate by selling tickets, providing seafood(!) for the dinner and/or helping out at the dinner. So we are asking all members to contribute – one way or another. We're counting on Club members to sell tickets to friends, family, co-workers, neighbors, etc. Remember, this is not an event just for divers. Everyone who enjoys good seafood, fun, music and dancing is welcome. There will be a $43.00 door charge per person. Carl Tuttle (286-7956, e-mail: tutcomms@sbcglobal.net) is coordinating ticket sales.

Chill Out, Man!

Join us for a special presentation on diving in Antarctica by Jim van Gogh. Jim has been diving for over 28 years and has over 1000 dives under his belt. Although always interested in photography, Jim stumbled into UW photography about 10 years ago and it has developed into a passion (addiction). Jim travels around the globe capturing images of the underwater world. Some of his favorite places include the California coast, Papua New Guinea, Indonesia, Truk Lagoon, the Maldives, Yap, Palau, Puerto Galera in the Philippines, Australia's Great Barrier Reef, Turks and Caicos, Curacao, Bonair and Belize. Visit: www.vangoghscuba.com. You won't want to miss this one! ☆

Refreshments Are Being Served

The following Dippers are asked to bring a tasty goodie to the next General Meeting: John Jones, Manuel Mangrobang, Ed McNeill, Don Mercado, Patrick Murphy, and Adam Nasont. Don't forget you will receive a FREE raffle ticket for your donation! ☆

You're only as old as your next dive?

Ten-year Dippers' member Lance Williams accomplished 100 SCUBA dives on Mexico's Palancar Reef in Cozumel. Anticipating each dive trip was very exciting while contemplating the reef location and conditions for each day's activity. Every back-roll off every boat was a thrilling experience when entering the clear warm Caribbean waters where it's 84-degrees during the summer and 77-degrees during the winter months. Never giving much thought to 100 dives at any site or location outside of California, I continued enjoying my dives with my bride Kathy Williams. Having been certified in Cozumel she has a special spot in her diving heart. My memories of 100 dives on Palancar Reef, the star attraction of the Cozumel Reefs National Park, are clearly logged encompassing drift, depth, coral tunnels, coral arches, turtles, sharks, a wreck dive and fun far beyond my expectations. Sure there were disappointments (very few), with weather conditions (wind) and a boat breakdown (been there, done that), however each dive excursion was a great individual experience only a diver can appreciate. ☆

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

July was a busy month for the Dippers. In addition to the dive activities, we had a great turnout for the Remembrance event for Charter Member Bill Zschaler. With some of Bill's family, many Dippers and members of the South Bay Ski Club, there were over 20 people in attendance to share memories, stories and photos of Bill. It was a really nice event.

Abalone seasons re-opens on August 1st, and we've got a 1-day ab grab scheduled for August 6th. Remember, we'll be counting on our members to donate abalone for the Seafood Dinner Dance in September! Next up is our S3 dive on August 13th – it's a boat dive on the BeachHopperII. See the calendar for information on getting onboard.

And you'll want to attend our August 17th General Meeting, where the entertainment will be Jim Van Gogh telling us about his dive trip to Antarctica in February 2016! And don't forget the Monterey Shootout photo competition scheduled for August 26 – 28.

We are also rapidly moving towards two of our biggest events of the year: Our Annual Labor Day Albion Ab Weekend and Campout; and our 27th Annual Seafood Dinner & Dance fundraiser. We need all Dippers to pitch in to make the Dinner/Dance a success, especially during the evening hours. See the article on the front page of this newsletter for all the info.

I hope to see you at one of our upcoming events!

Let's go diving! – Barbara

Diver's I.Q. Review Corner

This Month's Question: Divers Jim and Lance had a nice crawdad dinner yesterday evening at Lake Tahoe. To boil their catch they had 'borrowed' a huge cast iron pot from a campsite across the lake, and being fine gentlemen they set out to return the pot. It was so big they set it on the rail of Jim's boat.

As Jim pulled away from the launch ramp, ever-alert Lance noted that the lake level was even with a crack in the launch ramp. Midway across the lake they were bounced by the wake of a boat but Lance was dozing and the pot fell overboard and sank immediately. Jim's fish finder showed the depth to be 777 feet so they decided they wouldn't dive for the pot, but would have to abandon it.

On the way back, though, our pair debated about how the pot would affect the level of the lake. What would science say the water level would be compared to where it was when they pulled away from the launch ramp?

- a) Higher
- b) Same
- c) Lower

Send your answer by e-mail to Larry Ankuda at lankuda@comcast.net. All attendees at the next general meeting with the correct answers will be included in a drawing for 10 free raffle tickets. Good Luck!

Beach Cleanup ... who's missing?

Dippers joined together for the Panther Beach Cleanup on July 10 — but there were only two who showed up! Carl Tuttle (seated in photo) and Hunter Reid (standing). We're not sure where the rest of you Dippers were but it's obvious you were missed. Carl worked the beach area while Hunter worked the dirt parking area. A couple of folks helped out by bringing up the bags full of trash from the beach. One fella even made 3 or 4 trips up and down the trail. OK, so if you didn't make the July cleanup, you can redeem yourself by attending the next beach cleanup on August 21st. Don't take a chance on becoming a "Blue Dot-Head" in the next Newsletter! 🌟

Dive Report: July Halibut Hunt

Someone forgot to let the fish know the Club had scheduled a halibut dive on July 23rd. Dippers Jim Rezowalli, Carl Tuttle, Rob Wolf, Lance Williams and Cory Barns met at Moss Landing for the annual hunt. Unfortunately, the visibility was poor — a hazy 5-to-6 foot — and not a halie was seen. Carl reported he thought he saw one and nudged it with his speargun - anticipating it would take off and still get a shot at it. But it turned out it was a large skate covered with sand. When it did move it's tail in a threatening manner Carl quickly departed the area.

The group of divers were on two boats in an attempt to cover a wide area and increase their chances of finding the elusive flatties. No luck. Oh, and there was one diver who got on the wrong boat after his dive! With the poor vis the group abandoned plans for a second dive and motored back to the Harbor. As they say, "Better luck next time," or "A bad day of fishing and diving is better than a good day at work!" 🌟

Bill Zschaler Remembrance Gathering

A remembrance gathering for San Jose Flipper ADippers' Charter Member Bill Zschaler was held on Saturday, July 16, in Monterey. Over 20 members of the Flipper Dippers, the South Bay Ski Club, and others, joined together to share stories and photographs, and a picnic overlooking the Monterey Bay. The day started out with ride on the waters of Monterey Bay on Jim Rezowalli's boat and included Helen Conway, Carl Tuttle, and Bill's son Kristof Zschaler accompanied by his girlfriend. The ocean was flat calm with a slight overcast and mild temperature. Kristof did the honors of sending Bill off on his last dive with some inspirational readings by Jim and Carl. Jim then took the group on a leisurely tour of the bay, going past the Monterey Bay Aquarium and the crowd of friends at Monterey Bay Park. The BBQ and pot-luck picnic was enjoyed by all with lots of great food. The group gathered together to share many stories — one of which was Bill's ability of "cooking a turkey in a cardboard box" during a Flipper Dippers' Thanksgiving weekend campout and dive at Refugio State Beach near Santa Barbara. Well done, Bill. 🌟 🌟 🌟

What do you get when you misplace something?

The Club's treasurer, Jim Rezowalli, far right, was awarded the famous Golden Dippy by John Schwartz, left, at the July general meeting. Club president Barbara Davis received a phone voice message indicating the Club's checkbook was found on a table at the Post Office. Oops! Apparently, when Jim went to the post office to check the mail and pay for the P.O. Box rental, he inadvertently left the checkbook on a table. The honest person turned it in to the employees at the post office. She then found the Club's Website and went to the latest newsletter to find Club officer's phone numbers. Unable to contact Jim, she left a message with Barbara. See . . . some people do read the newsletter! 🌟

Biting Back at the Lionfish Invasion

Whole Foods has 26 Florida stores now selling fresh lionfish in its seafood departments. That might take a bite out of the population of invasive species hurting Florida's offshore reefs. It's an economically priced fish, which has 18 venomous spines, but is safe to eat once the spines have been removed. Mild-tasting, it's become a major restaurant item on many Caribbean islands, the one fish that can be eaten without worrying about reducing reef fish population . . . and now it has been spotted invading the eastern Mediterranean, expect it soon in Greek and Turkish recipes! 🌟

Deep Vein Thrombosis and Decompression Sickness

Undercurrent, July 2016

Risks to us traveling divers don't end with the last dive. To avoid a case of DCS when flying home from a dive trip, we're careful to wait at least 24 hours after our last dive before boarding a plane. And after we are on the plane for the long ride home, it's deep vein thrombosis we need to worry about. In fact, over the years, Undercurrent has reported two cases of divers dying from DVT on a long flight home (it's thought to be prevented by periodically rising from your seat and walking the aisle).

It is commonly believed that all pressurized flights maintain a cabin pressure equivalent to somewhere between 7000 and 10,000 feet, although often an aircraft might take some time after take-off to achieve that pressurization, depending on the rate of climb. Albion Ab Dive/Campout: Sept 1-5

Our next big North Coast dive will be Labor Day Weekend, Sept. 4–7, at Albion Flat Campground. The Club has reserved a number of camping spaces for Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. The cost is $35 tent, $40 RV (includes electric and water) per night for one vehicle/two people. Boat launching is extra. This is a great place to freedive for fish and abalone. Don't forget your Fishing License, Ab Card, ink pen and zip ties!

We usually have some member boats or “rubber duckies” available, so no one has to swim too far for their abs. A large number of club members long experienced in ab diving will be there to show the newcomers how it is done, so new divers and prospective members are encouraged to attend. Albion has hot showers, restrooms, electric hookups, and water to most campsites.

Barnacle Bill will be there!

We will have our infamous ab and potluck dinner on Saturday night, which means that each member will provide one cleaned, sliced and pounded ab for every four people in your party plus a potluck dish (hot dish, salad, dessert, etc.) to feed 5+ people. After dinner there will be a bonfire to enjoy.

Remember, you must be on the sign-up sheet to be admitted to the campground, NO EXCEPTIONS! Because of the limited camping space Club members have priority on campsites. If there is extra room, then guests will be accommodated. Jerry Richards (408-267-7853) is coordinating this holiday weekend. A special invitation is extended to all new and prospective members to join us for a weekend of diving to remember. ★

Whale Sharks' Deepest Dives Detected

Mindy Weisberger, Live Science

Known as the “gentle giants” of the shark family, whale sharks are the largest fish alive today. But there is much that scientists have yet to discover about their biology and habits. And these massive fish recently revealed a big secret — they're capable of far deeper dives than previously suspected. By using highly sophisticated fin-mounted satellite tags on whale sharks for the first time, scientists observed the deepest recorded dives by a whale shark — nearly 6,000 feet (1,800 meters), approximately the length of 27 football fields. [Image Gallery: Mysterious Lives of Whale Sharks]

Whale sharks (Rhincodon typus) live in warm and temperate waters around the world, and can grow to about 50 feet (15 m) in length. They are filter feeders, hoovering up not only plankton and fish eggs, but also small fish and squid. Sometimes their diet gets them into trouble with fishermen; when whale sharks swim too close to boats that are trawling for baitfish, they can get caught in the nets.

However, their tendency to tangle themselves up turned out to be a lucky break for a team of researchers in Indonesia. Whale sharks had previously been difficult to tag with fin-mounted satellite tags — trackers used on a number of shark species that can transmit position, water depth and temperature — because the sharks are too big for divers to manipulate alongside a research boat in order to attach the devices. But a team of scientists recently took a different approach — tagging sharks that had gotten trapped in fishing nets before they were released.

Over 18 months, scientists tagged 16 whale sharks in southeast Indonesia's Cenderawasih Bay, collecting a wealth of data on the sharks' movements — including how deep they dove — results that greatly surprised the researchers. Of the 16 tagged sharks, 10 were observed to dive more than 2,000 feet (625 m), according to Mark Erdmann, a coral reef ecologist and vice president of the Conservation International (CI) Asia-Pacific marine program, who led the tagging expeditions.

And two of the smaller sharks dove even deeper than that by about 4,000 feet (1,219 m), Erdmann wrote in a blog post on the CI website, though the researchers have yet to learn what exactly the sharks are doing in those depths. “Are they diving for food, or for other reasons? It's still unclear,” he said. The tags have a two-year battery life, and the scientists are greatly anticipating what unexpected whale shark behaviors might still be revealed.

Meanwhile, the tagged sharks' movements can be followed on the CI website, using a “whale shark tracker” tool going live later this week, part of an initiative to raise awareness and appreciation of these massive and mysterious marine creatures. ★

University of Science and Technology have begun a project to determine if cabin decompression might favor the formation of vascular bubbles — deep vein thrombosis — in commercial air travelers.

Cabin pressure was monitored and analyzed in 30 commercial flights. The greatest pressure differentials between model tissues and cabin were estimated for half-time compartments ranging from 20 to 120 minutes.

The time to decompress ranged from 11 to 47 minutes. It was found that the drop in cabin pressure was commensurate with that found to cause bubbles in man. The median overall rate of decompression found during this study was five times that prescribed for U.S. Navy saturation divers, meaning that it was more hazardous to take a lengthy commercial flight. So can aviation-related deep vein thrombosis be a form of decompression sickness? Research continues. (Source: www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/27106903) ☆

NOTE: All certified divers are encouraged to attend San Jose Flipper Dippers' dives.

Non-Club members will be required to show proof of certification to the dive coordinator prior to entering the water with our group. Please sign up for dives at the General Meeting or call the coordinator. This is needed in case of cancellation or changes.
